

1st SCHOOL HYDROLOGICAL INFORMATION NETWORK
(SHINe) CONFERENCE Proceedings
(December 06, 2010)
Hiyas Convention Center, City of Malolos
Province of Bulacan

Organized by the Provincial Government of Bulacan (PGB)
Department of Education, Division of Bulacan and Provincial Disaster Risk Reduction & Management Office (PDRRMO)

In coordination with
Pampanga River Flood Forecasting & Warning Center (PRFFWC) of the Philippine Atmospheric, Geophysical & Astronomical Services Administration
(PAGASA)

Background:

School Hydrological Information Network or SHINe is a simple school-based program aimed at addressing issues on the effects of climate change, in particular focusing on awareness to hydrometeorological-related disasters. The activity is one way of supporting the Department of Education's (DepEd) thrust in its developmental program on the "climate change" enhanced curriculum. This is consistent with the underlying principle that disaster awareness begins in schools.

The program aims to strengthen the community, particularly the school, to cope with disasters such as floods through the school's regular monitoring of rainfall, river or water level stage (at some areas) and tracking of incoming tropical cyclones path being carried-out at the school's capacity level. The data monitored are readily provided to the Provincial Disaster Risk Reduction & Management Office (PDRRMO) and the disaster councils at municipal and barangay levels during times of inclement weather condition and thus helping out the community in its disaster preparedness and mitigation activities.

Program Objectives

- Enhance the disaster awareness of the school's populace through its regular hydrological monitoring in effect prevent loss of lives and protect properties.
- Coordinate and provide timely hydrological information to the PDMO, now PDRRMO, the disaster councils at Municipal and Barangay levels to properly operate the local flood warning system of the province.
- Develop long-term strategies not only on a provincial level but national as well based on the data and information collected from the network of observations by the SHINe school groups.

Brief of SHINe History:

In 2006, the School Rainfall Observation Network or SRON was conceived by the PRFFWC as a proposed in-line activity to the Community-based Flood Mitigation & Management Program (CBFMMP) of the Province of Bulacan which was also conceived by the former in 2004. Later SRON was renamed to School Hydrological Observation Network (SHON). SHON program plans and activities were prepared but the activity was held-off due to the numerous disaster-related responses that the then Bulacan PDMO had to cope-up with during the period 2007 to early 2008. By last quarter of 2008, SHON was renamed to SHINe and was implemented in 3 high-land situated secondary schools in order to augment the rainfall observations of the CBFMMP. These were at DRT, Akle and J.J.Russell High Schools in DRT, San Ildefonso, and San Miguel towns, respectively.

The program was well accepted at the 3 school areas and by the PGB such that by early quarter of 2009, 6 more secondary schools were selected for implementation: Norzagaray, Binagbag, Taboc, Vedasto Santiago, SJDM, and F.Halili High Schools in Norzagaray, two in Angat, San Miguel, SJDM City, and Sta. Maria towns, respectively.

About mid-year of 2010, OXFAM, an international NGO, recognized the activity as an innovative program and one of the best practice for Disaster Risk Reduction (DRR). Before the end of the year 2010, a comeback visit to the 9 schools was undertaken for reorientation and on December 06, 2010 the first SHINe Conference was successfully held in Hiyas Convention Center, City of Malolos, Bulacan and thus this conference proceeding.

He was quite happy that this program was first introduced in the province of Bulacan. Finally, he vowed that PGB through the PDRRMO will continue to support the various SHINE activities for the continued disaster resiliency of the people of Bulacan.

Hon. Wilhemino M. Sy-Alvarado, Provincial Governor and PDRRMC Chairman (above picture) speaking before the delegates in the SHINE conference. In his message, Governor Alvarado related the importance of cleanliness in the community as a way of addressing the issues on global warming, which is actually one of the major component activity of SHINE on the issues related to Climate Change.
